RAMBLINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT

Why is it that people say they “slept like a baby” when babies wake up like every two hours?

Some of you may have heard that I had a Pacemaker installed just days ago. Stu Allen is always talking about his and I figured I wanted to experience what he’s always touting as the next best thing to bread. I’m recuperating with the assistance of the best nurse on the planet, my wife Karen. I’ll keep it brief as my shoulder is just a little tender and pounding on the keyboard doesn’t help my attitude. I was in the hospital for a few days of surgery and recovery and naturally during that time, personal hygiene cannot be performed. Let’s just say that a polecat smells better, and on Wednesday when I was being discharged, they not only deloused and fumigated the room, they also burned the hospital bed. O.K., they give me all the discharge information and also an Alexa type machine to plug in at home so they can “monitor” my heart. If you are aware of Alexa, it means they can communicate with you. I’ll be delicate here in what follows. When you are pumped up for days with medication, anesthesia and whatnot, the body naturally is prone to mixing the concoctions into some type of fermentation. God invented a mechanism in which a pressure relief valve opens to discharge the gases of fermentation. Sometime around 3 AM a voice came from Alexa blurting out, “Geeze, give it a rest pal!” I’m not safe even in my own home for pity sake.

What started out as me not being able to breathe in any air as to now being able to suck in more air than a jet engine.

What started out as a planned trip to Upstate New York with a co-driver from Florida for 5 days ended before it started with the Florida driver calling it quits in North Carolina after a call from Karen. There’s even more to this story, including kidnapping, coercion and assault with a deadly weapon, but I’ll leave that for some other time.

I wish to remind you, my readers, that your editor requires me to write an article each month and therefore I assume that my “ramblings” may have a twist on the weird side. (Editors note—You think?) You elected me, impeach me.

Things my mother taught me:

PART 11: WEATHER:

“This room of yours looks as if a tornado went through it.” (yes this is out of numerical sequence, live with it)

Confessions of a Forever GM Guy

As most of you know, I'm an old GM/Delphi retiree who has owned only GM cars for the past 60 years. I must confess that the only vehicle that might make me break this string of ownership would be the car like the one I drove in high school that belonged to my mother. I've searched family photos for a glimpse of that car but have been unable to find one. It was the car I passed my driver's test in the day after I turned 16. It was the car my future wife and I dated in before I left for college. It was a cool car then and still is, although you seldom see one on the road or in car shows.

(Drum roll!) It was a 1962 Ford Galaxy convertible, black exterior, black interior and black top. It featured the 352ⁱⁿ³ V-8 and automatic transmission. My mom bought it from the local Ford dealer in Pennsylvania. It was a demo that the dealer's wife was using. My mom's students and my sisters thought it was pretty great for a teacher's car. The local Pennsylvania state police were very familiar with the car since Mom would occasionally get pulled over for speeding going to or from school. The teacher can't be late!

File Photo

I'm probably not the only AACA member that checks the car magazines (Antique Automobile, Buick Bugle, Chevrolet Generator & Distributer, Old Cars, and Hemmings. We walk the Hershey car corral every year, hoping that that particular car might show up. We also check the many online sources like the following:

<https://www.hagerty.com/marketplace/search>

<https://bringatrailer.com/auctions/>

<https://www.enlistedauctions.com/>

Probably the best source of of leads for that special car you are watching for is from fellow car club members. I remember one phone call I got back in 1996 from a friend in Michigan who urged me to go check out a 1957 Buick Roadmaster 75 with 23,000 original miles. That call led me to purchase the car that most of you are familiar with.

So far, none have met my specific requirements for the Ford so the search goes on. Do I need another car? Certainly not, but it's fun to dream anyway.

GROW YOUR REGION AND YOUR CLUB

*By Dave Anspach
AACA Executive Vice President*

Everyone knows that membership has been down over the past few years. It had gone down a bit pre covid, dropped a lot more during covid, and has continued a gradual decline since then. There are a thousand reasons why this is happening, but we, as a club shouldn't just sit back and accept it. It is up to every one of us to FIGHT this trend!! But HOW?? What can one person do??

Well, first of all, realize that you are NOT alone. The club provides all kinds of materials for you to use to promote membership. Get them from the office in Hershey and USE them. Carry them with you ever you go. See an old car at the gas station? Give the driver some literature. See a guy in the store with a car jacket, t-shirt, or hat on ? invite him or her to your next region meeting. Going to a car show? Set up a table with a batch of AACA Magazines and recruit members. Just think, if every member just got one new member a year, in just a few years we would be a massive organization!

I mentioned being part of a region. For many people the social aspect of the old car hobby is the primary factor for joining a club. Use our regions shows, tours, picnics, parties etc as a tool to get people to join. Push your region to do things together. A group of AACA show cars together going to a local show will surely dominate the prizes. People want to be a part of a winner and they will want to join your club. Invite every person to your Regional meeting. Carry with you and give to every one an introduction to your Region and the places and Another thing to remember is to get a name and email address. Then send that prospective member an electronic copy of your Region newsletter (which costs you nothing) and have your membership chair send them a reminder before your next meeting!!

And don't forget those free memberships. Who can say no to something free? But please, don't just hand the form to someone. Get their information and have them sign it and take it with you! Then, be sure to mail it in to Hershey. So many forms have just been handed out and gone unused!! Remember we have special free memberships for veterans. Use them !! The fact that veterans are recognized is sometimes the difference that brings someone into the fold.

We ALL must fight this battle of declining membership. Every one of us had a special reason or person who got us involved. It is up to YOU to be the reason or person for the next new member to join!!

Minutes of the July 13, 2024 W-S Meeting

Our July meeting was held at Baldwin Park with no formal meeting. Pictures are on Page 2. Our display brought a good turnout of residents who enjoyed the beautiful weather. Participation by members was sparse this year due to several regulars being away on tours. We did have 10 vehicles for folks to look over and reminisce about. In the voting, Residents Choice was the 1972 Ford Torino Sport that Steve Albrecht brought. Participants Choice went to Bill Jackameit for his 1964 Studebaker Wagonaire.

Lunch was served on the lawn by Baldwin Park and we all had lots of good food and fellowship.

Respectfully submitted,

Stu Allen for Robbie Gray
